

FIGHT AGAINST GAMBLERS IS ON

Bingham Miners' Union Would Suppress Games in Copper Camp.

GETTING NO HELP FROM SHERIFF AND MARSHAL

Statement Is Issued Reviewing the Situation From the Beginning.

Open warfare is now on between the miners' union of Bingham and the gamblers of the "Old Reliable" camp. The miners say, however, and they are abundantly borne out by the record, that they have struck two snags. One is the attitude of the sheriff of Salt Lake county, and the other is the attitude of the marshal of Bingham. The sheriff says he will close gambling outside of the town, while the city marshal closes it inside, and the city marshal says he will close it inside when the sheriff takes the initiative on the outside. So there you are. In connection with the county attorney was seen and he advised the miners to swear to complaints against the gamblers. This was done and a number of gamblers were arrested. They were released, however, upon bonds in the sum of $15 each, and the case has not come up for trial. As a further step in the suppression of gambling, the miners' union has issued the following statement of the case:

Statement of Union.
Fellow citizens:—At the present, and for some time past, there have been in the city of Bingham open violations of the law that are countenanced and encouraged by our city officials. The Bingham Miners' union, at a regular meeting, passed a resolution requesting your city marshal and mayor to suppress gambling, the same being a violation of the law, and the resolution was presented to the above-mentioned officials. The mayor told us that he would have to talk to the sheriff of Salt Lake county. Our city marshal, who apparently does not believe in the law, told us that the resolution and, with the dignity of a czar, turned his back on a committee of Bingham citizens, his only comment being "All right, I will see to it."

We then sent the resolution to the county attorney and sheriff. From the county attorney we received no reply. The sheriff notified us that we would have to swear out a complaint and that he would arrest all violators of the gambling law, outside of the city limits. Our committee journeyed to Salt Lake and succeeded in obtaining an interview with the county attorney. He told us that he would swear out complaints against those who were actually gambling. This was done, and the warrants were served for the gamblers' arrest.

Released on Small Bonds.
The gamblers appeared before Justice of the Peace Colverson, pleaded not guilty, and this official placed them under $15 bonds. Fifteen dollars would not buy a surety man in the city of Salt Lake. Surely an enormous sum for a roulette dealer to pay. But this is not all. Six days have elapsed since the giving of the complaints, and the gamblers have not been brought to trial. Are our officials shielding the gamblers, or are our officials trying to enforce the law?

Our committee then approached the justice of the peace and offered to swear out complaints against the gamblers within the city limits. His honor (the justice) called the city marshal into the conference, and the city marshal said that it was not necessary for us to file complaints. He said that he could close gambling in five minutes if he wanted, and would close the city limits. The committee then telephoned to the sheriff, who told us that he would do his duty if the town would act first. Our committee at once notified our city marshal of the attitude of the sheriff.

Reply of Marshal.
The city marshal told the proverbial schoolboy who said "I saw it first," remarked that he had made the proposition for the county officials to close the outside first, and would not be back until Monday, two days from the time this interview occurred.

Fellow citizens, will you allow this open violation of the law to continue? If so, we can come to no other conclusion than that any one who is a community organizer who chooses may violate the law as one of the committee, take it that we may organize a mob at any time and throw the whole gamblers' union out of town. We, the committee, ask you, as law-abiding citizens, to see to it that the law dealing with gambling is enforced.

ALBERT W. WILLS,
Chairman of Committee, Bingham Miners' Union No. 67.

AMPLE WATER SUPPLY AT FORT D. A. RUSSELL

General E. A. Wedgwood of the National Guard of Utah received a blue print Saturday from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., showing the general plan of the waterworks system at the camp where the army maneuvers will be held this year.

The plan shows that new water mains have been installed during the year at the fort, thus insuring an ample water supply. Three, four and five-inch water mains have been laid throughout the camp, so that the water supply will be at hand this year and the custom of hauling water for the camp, which has been in vogue in the past, will be abandoned. The fish guards will leave for camp on August 2.

Wants Chief of Police and Other Officers to Show Cause.

City Attorney H. J. Dinwiddie appeared in Judge Bowman's court Saturday morning and read an affidavit charging Chief of Police Barlow, Lieutenant Shannon and Sergeant Beckstead with not acting in good faith in the discharge of their duty. After calling the attention of the court to the fact that 413 warrants had been issued for the arrest of immoral women, between the dates of June 23 and July 4, and that only six arrests had been made, he asked the court to cite the police officials to appear in court for inquiry and an investigation.

Judge Bowman set as the time for the investigation, next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and directed Clerk of the Court R. Canning to serve the citations upon the several members of the department. The investigation will take place before Judge Bowman in the civil division of the city court. Judge Whitaker and Judge Bowman having arranged to alternate.

In asking the court for the investigation Saturday morning, City Attorney Dinwiddie said that there appeared to have been some sort of a miscarriage of justice in the investigation had been set for Friday afternoon last, but had not been ordered to appear in the court in order that the court might be advised. City Attorney Dinwiddie asked to be allowed to read an affidavit which he had prepared.

In the affidavit City Attorney Dinwiddie set forth the dates on which the warrants for the arrests of women had been issued from Judge Bowman's court; that even upon bonds in the sum of $15 each, and the case has not come up for trial. As a further step in the suppression of gambling, the miners' union has issued the following statement of the case:

HIGH-HANDED METHODS PREVAIL AT SALT LAKE

Harry Brown, late chef at the Leviathan cafe at Salt Lake, called at the Tribune office with a number of his former associates Saturday afternoon and told a startling story regarding the treatment accorded the men by the management of the resort.

Mr. Brown said that when he was leaving the cafe for the city, he was told by the management that he was to be paid for the work he had done. He said that he was told that he was to be paid for the work he had done. He said that he was told that he was to be paid for the work he had done.

This was followed Saturday morning, says Brown and his companions, by a check, and a check of some of the men, Joseph Galvin, a cook, says that he had a private look on his door, but that the men were forced to open their doors. He said that their rooms also were searched. The men are incensed at the treatment accorded them and all the men up their jobs Saturday afternoon and returned to the city. Galvin said that he would at once lay the matter before the county attorney and the city marshal.

The men also claim that the management of the resort had taken the case from the control of the lessee, McNary.

WARRANT IN HANDS OF SHERIFF IS NOT SERVED

Although a warrant has been out for nearly a week for the arrest of Mrs. E. L. Krutimer, wife of the late city marshal, and despite the fact that the woman has been seen at her residence during that time by tradesmen whom she has called on, the warrant has not been served. The house in which she has been residing is at 55 North Second West street, and was owned by Deputy Sheriff J. Farley White.

Inquiries made at the sheriff's office Saturday afternoon brought out replies to the effect that the warrant had not been placed in the hands of the deputies until Wednesday last. It was also stated that the woman had been located and had been located up to Saturday afternoon. Deputy Sheriff White said that the woman had not been located at that place of residence since Thursday last, at noon.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN FRUIT

That there is much improvement, especially as to the absence of worms, in the fruit coming into market now over conditions a year ago was the statement of County Horticultural Inspector J. C. Stay before the regular monthly meeting of the County Horticultural society yesterday afternoon.

Fruit is more free of worms and is in better condition otherwise, Mr. Stay said, and all the indications are that the fruit-growers are trying to live up to the requirements of the law. The fruit developed on account of worms is only about one-tenth that which was in the same amount for the corresponding period of last year, Mr. Stay says.

The horticultural inspector does not propose to relax his vigilance, however, for the deputy inspectors were instructed to watch the fruit brought into the stores in their districts as well as fruit carried on peddling wagons.

President James M. Fisher of the society also told of the success he is having in raising fruit and to Flemingway showed how one fruitgrower in keeping his own orchard free of insects and diseases helps his neighbor by removing the possibility of spread of disease.

Deputy inspectors told of the success they are having getting rid of worms by banding trees. At each cleaning from five to twenty worms are removed from each of these bands and killed. The interval for cleaning is from eight to ten days.

Thousands of Advocates of Political Independence to Gather at Lagoon.

Eloquent Speakers To Tell Eternal Truths.

Concerts by Philippi Band and Other Musical Organizations.

Next Wednesday will be the day of all days at Lagoon. It will be American day. It will be such a day as will long be remembered by the thousands who will participate in the exercises.

There will be such a rally of American party enthusiasts as will lay in the shade by comparison even the greatest and most famous campaign rallies. There will be eloquent speakers. They will tell the big audiences again what the American party stands for. They will tell what has been achieved in the past, and they will tell what is going to be achieved in the future. They will tell of how the real American citizens of this community at last escaped the thrall and found in the American party the opportunity to assert their political independence. They will tell of the necessity of the American party; they will point out wherein both of the old parties lamentably fail in Utah.

Senator Dubois to Speak.

The corps of speakers will be headed by former Senator E. T. Dubois, than whom there is no living man better qualified to handle the problems that have vexed the people of Utah and the difficult questions which still confront them, questions which must be answered rightly or not at all.

There will be music without limit. By special arrangement, the renowned Philippi band will give concerts afternoon and evening. This band is at the forefront of musical organizations, and its leader is one of the world's few really great band directors. In addition to the Philippi band, there will be instrumental and vocal music by the Hawaiian Troubadours, who will hold forth in the Spanish bower. The jazz band, the American drum corps will meet the incoming trains and stir the air with patriotic music.

Mrs. Corinne Harris Hammer, the well-known soprano, will sing "The Flag Without a Star," and will lead in "America."

Arrangements have been made for extra train service, should additional transportation facilities be required, which is quite probable.

Altogether, American day at Lagoon will be a day of the greatest gathering of the kind ever held in Utah.

Louis Rocco, 70 years of age, who disappeared from his home in this city Friday, walked into the office of the sheriff at Provo Saturday morning, and was carrying a heavy bundle of blankets and told the sheriff that he wanted to be sent to the state hospital, so that he could have his head examined. He said that he feared he was losing his mind.

Sheriff Sharp of this city was immediately notified and was advised that Rocco said he had a son, Eugene Rocco, residing in Salt Lake City, who was a wanderer at the Cullen hotel, and a daughter, Mrs. C. Pipkin, 223 Brown's court. The son had been employed at the Buena Vista race track bar, but had left that place and has not been located. The man will be held until the sheriff's office can locate his family.

NARROW ESCAPE HAD BY BOY AND GIRL

They Participate Unwillingly in Exciting Runaway on State Street.

Willie Spencer, 12 years of age, and Rhoda Spencer, 11 years of age, clung to the seat of a delivery wagon of the Ensign Grocery company, 151 East Third South street, when the horse ran away from in front of Eagle Gate Saturday forenoon. Rhoda Spencer, who is the daughter of A. B. Spencer, the proprietor of the store, was thrown from the wagon near the intersection of Second South and Second East streets, but was not seriously injured.

The children were riding from the family home and the driver had stopped to get an order from a customer. For some unknown reason the horse became frightened and started to run. The children clung to the seat and screamed. At Second South street the horse was swerved from his path by a street car and started east on Second South street. At Second East street the wheels of the wagon struck the car tracks and Rhoda was thrown to the street. She landed on her head and shoulders. Pedestrians ran to the assistance of the child and she was revived. She escaped with a few slight bruises. The boy clung to the seat of the wagon until the horse was stopped at Seventh East street. He was uninjured.

ROADS ARE NOT BEHIND THE RESORT

Statements Are Made in Connection With Antelope Island and Rumors.

Few years pass that some publicity is not given to the fact that Antelope Island is so located as to make it a most interesting spot for a great resort. The old-time opinions have been resurrected in Salt Lake and again the rumor has been given currency that a resort on the island is now being planned.

This time it is stated the Rio Grande railway is behind the movement but, unfortunately, this seems to be but a guess. The story is not confirmed locally. In fact, it is denied by General Superintendent Daily of the Rio Grande, who stated to The Tribune last night that he did not think there is anything to the story. Certainly the Rio Grande is not in it," said Mr. Daily, "and I would know something of it if such were the intention."

S. V. Derrah, the Salt Lake representative of the Western Pacific, said last night that he did not know of any such project. He said that the Western Pacific is concerned. That road is too busy engaged handling affairs of the new line and planning other matters pertaining to industries to give attention at this time to a resort on the island.

Mr. John E. Dooly, one of the owners of Antelope Island, is very proud of his holdings on the island and in the land itself, and he has for many years been anxious when the possibilities of the island as a location for a great resort were mentioned. He was amused at the latest story of early action toward a resort on Antelope. He thinks he would be surprised with if such a plan had been adopted.

Doubtless there is considerable speculation as to a possible new resort on the lake because the condition of Saltair and the changing lake levels have caused a wonder when a new resort will be a necessity. The lake is too great an asset for Salt Lake City to long remain partially developed as a place for pleasure and health, and there are devoted opinions among Saltair is renovated, remodeled and better managed.

MARRIAGE VOWS NO BAR FOR CHANDLER

Sentenced to Serve 18 Months for Cohabiting With Woman Not His Wife.

Frank Chandler pleaded guilty in District Judge Lewis' court Saturday morning to the charge of adultery with Marie Amundsen January 15 this year, and was sentenced to serve eighteen months at hard labor in the state prison. The co-defendant was County Pauper Clerk James Sabina.

Chandler was a sort of humble second on Sunday a legitimate Mrs. Chandler. While he posed as the husband of one woman in a desultory way, neglecting and mistreating her, he had seduced and married another woman, Marie Amundsen, for something like five years.

The Amundsen woman did not know that Chandler was married and succumbed to his wiles under promise of marriage, which was never fulfilled. Neither did Mrs. Chandler know that Chandler was living with the Amundsen woman. Finally Mrs. Chandler was compelled to seek the aid of the court, and Pauper Clerk Sabina soon let the light in upon both women.

At first Mrs. Sabina knew nothing of the matter, but when she learned that Chandler was married and had changed from failure to provide for minor children to adultery.

Chandler, who bore him six children, and the Amundsen woman towards the end of last year, Chandler last lived with the Amundsen woman at 313 Second East street. He is about 40 years old, and the woman, who has never been married, is about 32.
